Front-End Developer

As a developer, my primary responsibility was to design and maintain the company website. I used HTML, CSS, and JS to create dynamic and visually appealing web pages that enhanced the user experience. Additionally, I regularly monitored website analytics to track user behavior and make improvements to the site's overall functionality.

- Implemented responsive design and user interface best practices, resulting in improved user engagement and increased customer satisfaction
- Developed and maintain complex front-end functionalities such as animations, transitions, and interactive features
- Test the website to ensure that it's functioning correctly and looks good on different devices and browsers
- Researched and implemented new web technologies to enhance website functionality and aesthetics
